Johnson County EMA Encourages Community Members to Report Damages from April 16 Storms

Johnson County, Iowa – Johnson County EMA, local community partners and municipalities are collecting data on the damages from the storms on April 16, and are asking Johnson County residents to self-report any property damage.

Property damage can be self-reported by visiting <https://www.crisistrack.com/public/johnsonIA/request.html> and selecting the event titled “Johnson Co IA April 16 Storms” if not already highlighted.

Information provided through the survey helps emergency management officials understand the extent of damages that have occurred and helps identify any immediate resource needs.

Reporting damage through the Crisis Track Self-Reporting tool is voluntary and is not a substitute for reporting damage to an insurance agency. It does not guarantee disaster relief assistance.

The self-reporting is open and will end at noon on Friday, April 19, 2024.
